REPUBLICANS OF MICHIGAN.
Will Probably Nominate Fred M. Warner for Governor.

Detroit, June 30.—It is conceded by many persons that Fred M. Warner of Farmington, secretary of state of Michigan, will be nominated for governor by the Republican state convention in light guard armory today. Homer Warren of Detroit and George H. Horton of Lenawee county are also gubernatorial candidates. Justus R. Stearns of Ludington and Grand Rapids, who has made a campaign for the nomination for governor by means of literature and attacks on the so-called "machine" element of the party in Michigan, may also have his name presented.

Perhaps the liveliest fight in the convention will be that for the nomination of auditor. The aspirants are Malcolm J. McLeod of Detroit, Dr. J. B. Bradley of Eaton Rapids, who seems to be leading, and E. A. Wilkey of Pawpaw. The so-called machine element of the party will, it is said, fight any attempt to pledge the party to primary reform, further than the declaration made at the recent convention in Grand Rapids in favor of a bill providing for local option in each county on the question.

Kiel, June 30.—King Edward's visit was brought to an end by a banquet on the German imperial yacht Hohenzollern last night. The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert with his majesty on board sailed for England at dawn today, escorted by the British cruiser squadron.

King Edward and Emperor William witnessed part of the racing from Zerknerferde to Kiel on board the Victoria and Albert. Luncheon was served during the race.

The German yacht Suzanne won the gold cup given by King Edward. The emperor's yacht Iduna was second and Morton F. Plant's Ingomar was third. The victory of the Suzanne greatly delighted the German yachtsmen. The emperor's yacht Meteor III did not finish, and was towed in by a torpedo boat.

Severe Storm in Wisconsin.

vention Adjourned Until 9 O'clock Friday

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY DISPATCH.

St. Paul, Minn., June 30.—Although the state convention was scheduled to meet at 10 o'clock it was 11:05 when State Chairman Jamieson called the gathering to order. Senator Clapp was introduced as temporary chairman and made a speech of nearly an hour. When Clapp concluded his speech a recess was taken to 2 o'clock to allow the factions to try and get together on a plan for naming the credential committee.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY DISPATCH.

St. Paul, Minn., June 30, 3:30 p.m.—The credentials committee fight was settled during the recess by the selection of a committee of fifteen, seven Dunn men and seven Collins men and Senator Ward, of Alexandria, to represent the Eddy faction.

JAPS BEAT RUSSIANS

INFLECT A DISASTROUS DEFEAT
UPON CZAR'S FORCES IN A RUNNING FIGHT.

KAICHOW CAPTURED BY JAPS

CITY FALLS INTO HANDS OF THE MIKADO'S MEN AFTER SE-VERE FIGHTING.

Newchwang, June 30.—Russians were defeated in a disastrous running fight extending from Haihu to Simucheng, on the military road from Fung-hwang to Haicheng, and the Japanese pursued them to Tatung Pass, the gate to the center of General Kuropatkin's main position.

The Japanese who drove them back comprised a strong detachment of the Twelfth army division, commanded by Lieutenant General Inouye, supported by a brigade from Lieutenant General Baron Nishi's Second army division. The victorious column was strengthened further at the junction of the roads to Haicheng from Fung-hwang and Shuyen, near Simicheng, by several regiments, batteries and squadrons from the First division of the Taku-shan army, advancing northeastward along the Shuyen-Haicheng road.

RUSSIAN PUBLIC EXPECTANT.

Impatient For News of a Great Battle in the Far East.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The fact that no further news of land operations was received last night did not serve to relieve the tension which is general throughout the city. The officials continue to feel confidence in General Kuropatkin's judgment and in his ability to deal with the momentous situation, but the general public is keyed up in expectation of a great battle and is impatient for news of any sort.

The report from Tokio that a further raid had been made by the Vladivostok squadron arrived too late to be generally circulated. The report tallies with the intimation of the squadron's activity made in press dispatches June 27. These dispatches said that a belief prevailed that the Vladivostok squadron had put to sea on Saturday last and was likely to be heard of in the Korean straits. At the same time the Russian correspondent at Vladivostok took pains to say that Vice Admiral Skrydloff's squadron would probably be unable to go out again for weeks, as the ships had to go into drydock for overhauling. The Vladivostok report is regarded by some as a bluff.

JAPS TAKE KAICHOW

CAPTURE THE CITY AFTER A SE-VERE FIGHT WITH THE RUSSIAN FORCES.

London, June 30.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that severe fighting took place at Kaichow (Kaiping) on June 25, resulting in the capture of Kaichow on the morning of June 26.

The Tokio correspondent of the Morning Post says that the Japanese Second army has effected a juncture with the First army and that the whole force now has a fighting front of 120 miles.

ARMY JEERED THE NAVY.

Taunted Russian Sailors Into Making Recent Demonstration.

Chefoo, June 30.—Eight refugees who left Port Arthur in a Chinese junk were picked up Wednesday. They belong to the upper class. The informants give seems reliable. They state the Russian squadron now consists of the following ships in good condition: Czarevitch, Retvizan, Peresviet, Poltava, Diana, Bayan, Novik and twenty torpedo craft and smaller boats.

The torpedo transport Amur is damaged and the battleship Sevastopol slightly damaged, but they can soon be repaired.

There are 12,000 sailors and 40,000 soldiers in the fortress. Women are largely employed as nurses. There are 250 artisans and 2,500 citizens. Of these 2,000 have now been drafted into the army and are drilling day and night. There is plenty of food, but the governor is controlling prices in order to prevent speculation. The refugees also state that owing to the fears of the army the fleet was forced to make the recent demonstration on June 23 in order to preserve the morale of the garrison.

COLONEL BRIGHAM IS DEAD.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Passes Away at Delta, O.

Washington, June 30.—Colonel Joseph H. Brigham, assistant secretary of agriculture and chairman of the government board at the St. Louis exposition, died last night at Delta, O., on the way to St. Louis. He had stopped off at Delta for a short visit.

KILLED BY SEVERE STORM AT CITY OF MOSCOW.

SCORES OF OTHERS INJURED

TWO VILLAGES IN PATH OF THE STORM REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN DESTROYED.

Moscow, Russia, June 30.—A tornado swept this city Wednesday afternoon, causing enormous damage.

Forty-five people were killed, and thirteen injured are in hospitals.

Two villages near here, in the track of the storm, were destroyed. One hundred and fifty deaths are reported there, while eighty-five persons were hurt.

The telegraph system was prostrated and railway communication is interrupted.

Halfstones weighing three-quarters of a pound fell during the storm. In one grove of 250 acres only one tree was left standing.

MAY NEVER BE SOLVED.

Mystery Surrounding Murder of a Minneapolis Girl.

St. Paul, June 30.—Although the body of the young woman found floating in the Mississippi river here Tuesday evening has been identified as that of seventeen-year-old Ruth Teachout of Minneapolis, the case is still surrounded with as much mystery as when the girl's remains were dragged from the water.

That Ruth Teachout was brutally murdered is the belief of the police authorities. She was strangled and beaten, they say, and then the body was thrown into the Mississippi to hide the crime.

Who committed the crime or what was the motive, the police and coroner are unable to say. They even intimate that the mystery may never be solved.

Ruth Teachout left her home at 1506 Fourth avenue south, Minneapolis, Saturday morning. She told her parents that she was going down town to take her regular daily lesson in typewriting at a business college. She never returned and the last time she was seen alive was when boarding a Fourth avenue car.

Her sister Eva, accompanied by the girl's grandfather, yesterday identified the remains at the Ramsey county morgue.

That death was due to strangulation was shown by the postmortem examination, for the doctors found that there was not a drop of water either in the stomach or lungs.

TROOPS TO PRESERVE ORDER.

Three Companies of Regulars Detailed for Duty at Bonesteel, S. D.

Bonesteel, S. D., June 30.—The government has ordered three companies of regular troops to Bonesteel to assist the local authorities in preserving order during the rush incident to the opening of the Rosebud reservation, which will occur July 5.

The first serious incident in connection with the rush occurred last night when "Kid" English, a cook, was fatally shot by Police Captain Ault. English, it is said, became boisterous and the officer ordered him to "move on." He refused and Ault shot him. The officer was arrested and taken to Fairfax for safe keeping.

About 8,000 persons are quartered in tents and temporary buildings awaiting an opportunity to register. Locaters estimate that 35,000 persons will be here during the registration period.

MONEY FOR THE MILITIA.

Allotment of Funds to Provide Arms and Equipments.

Washington, June 30.—Acting Secretary Oliver of the war department has made the usual annual allotment of the $1,000,000 appropriated by congress to provide arms and equipments for the organized militia of the United States. The apportionment to Northwestern states is as follows:

Idaho, $5,984; Iowa, $25,932; Michigan, $27,926; Minnesota, $21,942; Montana, $5,984; Nebraska, $15,958; North Dakota, $7,979; South Dakota, $7,979; Wisconsin, $25,932; Wyoming, $5,984.

RUSSIAN WARSHIP DAMAGED.

Battleship Navarin Rammed by the Ironclad Netron Menia.

Cronstadt, June 30.—The Russian battleship Navarin, while returning to her anchorage Wednesday, was rammed by the Russian ironclad Netron Menia, which struck her amidships. The damage to the Navarin is not serious, though it may be necessary to drydock the vessel. It is believed that the period required for repairing the battleship will not be a long one.

Minnesota Men Elected.

Bloomington, Ill., June 30.—The annual convention of the Swedish Covenant Mission, in session at Paxton, elected the following officers: President, C. A. Bjork, Chicago; vice chairman, N. Frykman, Pennock, Minn.; secretary, H. Sundquist, St. Paul; financial secretary, John Winstrom, Chicago. The next convention will be held in Chicago.

NO CONFIDENCE IN WITHOFT.

Russian Sailors Would Prefer Skryd-
loff at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, June 30.—Fifty Europeans who left Port Arthur on June 23 arrived Thursday from Pigeon bay, where they embarked in a junk on June 28.

They say that in the naval engagement of June 23 the Russian battleship Sevastopol was slightly damaged. Fifteen days will be required to repair her. The torpedo dispatch boat Amur was badly damaged. The Europeans had not heard of the result of the night engagement in which the Japanese say they sank a battleship of the Peresviet type.

When the Russian fleet went out of port Arthur the hopes of all the residents were high, and there was much disappointment when the fleet returned to anchorage without engaging the enemy.

It is said that the Russian sailors have no confidence in Rear Admiral Withoft, but think that if Vice Admiral Skrydloff were in command the fleet could successfully engage the Japanese.

The Russian fleet is now reported to consist of six battleships, five cruisers and twenty-four smaller vessels.

On June 23, the day on which the Europeans left, the Japanese were reported to be trying to capture Wefu mountain, a strongly fortified position fifteen miles east of Port Arthur.

A Frenchman who has been in Port Arthur since the war began says that there are 50,000 fighting men there, including both soldiers and sailors, also 500 women and 150 noncombatants. The women and noncombatants are waiting for a steamer on which the Russians have promised to send them out of the besieged fortress. The food supply is sufficient. The only sufferers are the Chinese, who are without money.

TWENTY-TWO MEN DROWNED.

Russian Sailors Perish in a Submarine
Boat.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—Twenty-two sailors were drowned at the Baltic works during the day while experiments were being made with the torpedo boat Delfin, which had been converted into a submarine boat. Four officers and thirty men were on board when the signal was given to submerge the boat without first properly closing the manhole. The result was the vessel sunk.

The accident was due partly to the excessive number of the crew, mostly inexperienced men, and chiefly to the unfortunate attempt of a man to escape while his comrades were screwing down the manhole.

THREE FORTS TAKEN

JAPS DEFEAT RUSSIANS AND CAP-
TURE PORTION OF PORT AR-THUR DEFENSES.

Tokio, June 30.—It is unofficially reported that the Chikwanshan, Chitan-shan and Sochosan forts, southeast of and part of the Port Arthur defenses, were captured on Sunday after an all day fight, beginning with an artillery duel. Sochosan, it is added, was first captured and the others fell soon afterwards. The Russians retreated west, leaving forty dead. The number of wounded has not been ascertained. The Japanese force consisted of all branches of the service. The Japanese lost three officers and a hundred men killed or wounded and captured two guns and a quantity of ammunition.

REPORT RIDICULED IN JAPAN.

Islanders Take No Stock in Rumor of Oku's Retirement.

London, June 30.—The Tokio correspondent of the Times says that the report sent out from St. Petersburg of General Oku's retirement is ridiculed in Japan, where the delay in forcing a great battle is well understood to be due to the habit of the Japanese generals in not striking before the deliberate completion of all their preliminaries.

The correspondent says that an imperial ordinance declares that all graduates of merchant marine schools which are officially recognized and also all mariners who have served for a certain time on merchant steamers are eligible for the naval reserve.

Wisconsin Day Celebrated at St. Louis
Exposition.

St. Louis, June 30.—Wisconsin day was celebrated at the Louisiana Purchase exposition during the day. Governor La Follette, who came from Madison especially to be present, was met at the depot and, with about forty members of his staff who accompanied him, was escorted to the Administration building, where the party was joined by President Francis and a military escort. There was a parade to the Wisconsin state building, where a programme of music and addresses was carried out. The building was presented to the exposition by ex-Governor W. E. Hoard, president of the Wisconsin state board of managers, who made an address which was responded to by President Francis. Governor La Follette followed with a short address and was succeeded by Congressman H. C. Adams of Madison, Wis., and Hon. Kirby Thomas of Superior, Wis. Music was furnished by the Merchants and Manufacturers' octette of Milwaukee.

HOLD UP A FREIGHT TRAIN.

Homesteaders Want to Be Carried to a Place to File.

Valentine, Neb., June 30.—A hundred and fifty homesteaders, whose purpose it is to file on land under the Kinkaid law, which allows 640 acres to each citizen, held up a Chicago and Northwestern freight fifty miles east of Valentine at night and demanded that they be carried to this city, where they wished to make their filings. The conductor was forced to sidetrack his train and wait for a passenger train to carry the men to Valentine. The rush for filing at this office was much greater than expected and several days will be required to receive the filings.

Vessels to Coal at French Ports.

London, June 30.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says it is reported that the Russian government has applied to the French government for permission to have all the vessels of the Baltic fleet coal at French ports on their way to the far East.

The Russian government, the correspondent says, is at present negotiating for a large stock of coal, not only in France, but in Germany.

in Alabama.

Williams escaped, but a posse is after him. Another negro, supposed to have been involved in the affair, has been arrested.

The English statute mile was first defined in the thirty-fifth year of Queen Elizabeth. Before that time it was put down at 5,000 feet.

Detroit, June 30.—It is conceded by many persons that Fred M. Warner of Farmington, secretary of state of Mich-

ment of the party will, it is said, fight claration made at the recent convention in Grand Rapids in favor of a bill providing for local option in each county on the question.

The victory of the Suzanne greatly delighted the German yachtsmen. The emperor's yacht Meteor III did not finish, and was towed in by a torpedo boat.

RUSSIAN WARSHIP DAMAGED.

Battleship Navarin Rammed by the Ironclad Netron Menia.

Cronstadt, June 30.—The Russian battleship Navarin, while returning to her anchorage Wednesday, was rammed by the Russian ironclad Netron Menia, which struck her amidships.
The damage to the Navarin is not serious, though it may be necessary to drydock the vessel. It is believed that the period required for repairing the battleship will not be a long one.

Minnesota Men Elected.

Bloomington, Ill., June 30.—The annual convention of the Swedish Covenant Mission, in session at Paxton, elected the following officers: President, C. A. Bjork, Chicago; vice chairman, N. Frykman, Pennock, Minn.; secretary, H. Sundquist, St. Paul;
financial secretary, John Winstrom, Chicago. The next convention will be held in Chicago.

NO CONFIDENCE IN WITHOFT.

Russian Sailors Would Prefer Skryd-
loff at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, June 30.—Fifty Europeans who left Port Arthur on June 23 arrived Thursday from Pigeon bay, where they embarked in a junk on June 28.

They say that in the naval engagement of June 23 the Russian battleship Sevastopol was slightly damaged.
Fifteen days will be required to repair her. The torpedo dispatch boat Amur was badly damaged. The Europeans had not heard of the result of the night engagement in which the Japanese say they sank a battleship of the Peresviet type.

When the Russian fleet went out of Port Arthur the hopes of all the residents were high, and there was much disappointment when the fleet returned to anchorage without engaging the enemy.

It is said that the Russian sailors have no confidence in Rear Admiral Withoft, but think that if Vice Admiral Skrydloff were in command the fleet could successfully engage the Japanese.

The Russian fleet is now reported to consist of six battleships, five cruisers and twenty-four smaller vessels.
On June 23, the day on which the Europeans left, the Japanese were reported to be trying to capture Wefu mountain, a strongly fortified position fifteen miles east of Port Arthur.

A Frenchman who has been in Port Arthur since the war began says that there are 50,000 fighting men there, including both soldiers and sailors, also 500 women and 150 noncombatants. The women and noncombatants are waiting for a steamer on which the Russians have promised to send them out of the besieged fortress. The food supply is sufficient. The only sufferers are the Chinese, who are without money.

TWENTY-TWO MEN DROWNED.

Russian Sailors Perish in a Submarine
Boat.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—Twenty-two sailors were drowned at the Baltic works during the day while experiments were being made with the torpedo boat Delfin, which had been converted into a submarine boat. Four officers and thirty men were on board when the signal was given to submerge the boat without first properly closing the manhole. The result was the vessel sunk.

The accident was due partly to the excessive number of the crew, mostly inexperienced men, and chiefly to the unfortunate attempt of a man to escape while his comrades were screwing down the manhole.

THREE FORTS TAKEN

JAPS DEFEAT RUSSIANS AND CAP-
TURE PORTION OF PORT AR-THUR DEFENSES.

Tokio, June 30.—It is unofficially reported that the Chikwanshan, Chitan-shan and Sochosan forts, southeast of and part of the Port Arthur defenses, were captured on Sunday after an all-day fight, beginning with an artillery duel. Sochosan, it is added, was first captured and the others fell soon afterwards. The Russians retreated west, leaving forty dead. The number of wounded has not been ascertained.
The Japanese force consisted of all branches of the service. The Japanese lost three officers and a hundred men killed or wounded and captured two guns and a quantity of ammunition.

REPORT RIDICULED IN JAPAN.

Islanders Take No Stock in Rumor of Oku's Retirement.

London, June 30.—The Tokio correspondent of the Times says that the report sent out from St. Petersburg of General Oku's retirement is ridiculed in Japan, where the delay in forcing a great battle is well understood to be due to the habit of the Japanese generals in not striking before the deliberate completion of all their preliminaries.

The correspondent says that an imperial ordinance declares that all graduates of merchant marine schools which are officially recognized and also all mariners who have served for a certain time on merchant steamers are eligible for the naval reserve.

MODEL STREET DEDICATED.

Schiffman of St. Paul Speak.

improvement section of the department of social economy at the world's fair was dedicated Wednesday. Addresses were made by Mayor J. C.
Haynes of Minneapolis, Dr. Rudolph

LA FOLLETTE PRESENT.

Wisconsin Day Celebrated at St. Louis
Exposition.

St. Louis, June 30.—Wisconsin day was celebrated at the Louisiana Purchase exposition during the day. Governor La Follette, who came from Madison especially to be present, was met at the depot and, with about forty members of his staff who accompanied him, was escorted to the Administration building, where the party was joined by President Francis and a military escort. There was a parade to the Wisconsin state building, where a programme of music and addresses was carried out. The building was presented to the exposition by ex-Governor W. E. Hoard, president of the Wisconsin state board of managers, who made an address which was responded to by President Francis. Governor La Follette followed with a short address and was succeeded by Congressman H. C. Adams of Madison, Wis., and Hon. Kirby Thomas of Superior, Wis. Music was furnished by the Merchants and Manufacturers' octette of Milwaukee.

HOLD UP A FREIGHT TRAIN.

Homesteaders Want to Be Carried to a Place to File.

Valentine, Neb., June 30.—A hundred and fifty homesteaders, whose purpose it is to file on land under the Kinkaid law, which allows 640 acres to each entryman, held up a Chicago and Northwestern freight fifty miles east of Valentine at night and demanded that they be carried to this city, where they wished to make their filings. The conductor was forced to sidetrack his train and wait for a passenger train to carry the men to Valentine. The rush for filing at this office was much greater than expected and several days will be required to receive the filings.

BRITISH WILL NEGOTIATE.

Armistice Declared Pending Arrival of Tibetan Officers.

Gyangtse, Tibet, June 30.—A lama came Wednesday under a flag of truce from the Tibetans asking an armistice pending the arrival at Gyangtse of officers from Lhasa, who will be prepared to negotiate with the British expedition. The British will undertake negotiations provided the Tibetan officers have sufficient authority.

Accused of Embezzlement.

Chicago, June 30.—Colonel Jacob H.
Plain, cashier of the German-American bank of Aurora, has been arrested charged with the misappropriation of $25,000 of the funds of the bank. The alleged peculations have extended over a period of three years.

ON THEIR WAY TO THE FAR EAST.

Russia Asks France to Allow Baltic
Vessels to Coal at French Ports.

London, June 30.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says it is reported that the Russian government has applied to the French government for permission to have all the vessels of the Baltic fleet coal at French ports
on their way to the far East.

The Russian government, the correspondent says, is at present negotiating for a large stock of coal, not only in France, but in Germany.

NEGRO KILLS TWO WHITES.

Third Man Wounded by the Desperado
in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., June 30.—In a shooting affray at Harwick's camp on the new extension of the Seaboard Air Line, two white men, Matt Bunn and Walker Wheeler, were killed and Samuel Bunn, a brother of Matt Bunn, was wounded by Will Williams, a negro desperado. Williams escaped, but a posse is after him. Another negro, supposed to have been involved in the affair, has been arrested.

The English statute mile was first defined in the thirty-fifth year of Queen Elizabeth. Before that time it was put down at 5,000 feet.

TEST OF UNIONISM.

Organization Should Level Up, and Not Down.

The chief test of unionism is its effect upon the character of the individual workman, writes Secretary White of the United Garment Workers of America.

It is not sufficient to show that unionism has advanced the worker materially.

If the labor struggle tends to make the laborer self reliant and develop his faculties it is of inestimable value.

If, however, it tends ultimately to suppress the individual, lessen his capacity and make him subordinate to the mass, it not only fails of its purpose, but works serious injury.

Alone he is a nonentity. His individuality in that respect is submerged.

He regains it by acting with other workmen having allied interests. Individual striving then gives way to joint endeavor.

It is the same with a body of men as it is with an individual. In the struggle for an existence the best faculties are exercised and developed, and when the object of that striving is attained the healthful activities are slackened and decline sets in.

That is why the unions in their early stages often prove more capable of withstanding opposition than when their membership becomes large and meets with a degree of success.

Unions that have started full fledged through the effort of other unions and have gained the benefits of unionism without struggle are often without stability and really a hindrance to the general movement. They contribute numbers, but that is only a dead weight.

Such members accept the fruits that others have labored for as something that is due them, and when the artificial props that have supported them are withdrawn they fall away.

If unionism is to endure and fulfill its highest mission, the dangers that have been pointed out must be taken into consideration.

Individual development must be allowed full play and allowances made for special abilities.

Instead of trying to keep all down to a dead level, every member should be put upon his merits and not limited in his earnings. In brief, the workman should be permitted the same play as when unorganized, while being re-enforced with the combined strength of his fellow workmen.

The function of the union is to insure fair play and to enforce a standard of wages and hours based upon the average abilities. There should be a grading upward and not downward. No limitations should be put upon capacities except for reasons of health.

By observing these rules the unions would make their position impregnable.

SITUATION IN MISSOURI.

Facts and Figures From the Report of the State Labor Bureau.

The twenty-fifth annual report of the bureau of labor statistics and inspection of Missouri for 1903 gives the numbers of each class of workmen employed, their average daily wages, hours of labor and the percentage of increases in wages during the year. A large number of particulars are given with regard to labor organizations, of which 636 reported to the bureau of labor statistics. With regard to them the following statistics are of interest:

The total membership of the labor organizations was 79,443, of whom 2,835 were females. It is estimated that 80.56 per cent of the wage earners in the organized trades are members of trade unions. Compared with 1901 the average daily hours of labor decreased from 9.5 to 9.26 in 1902, and the rate of wages increased from an average of 25.39 cents per hour to 27.77 cents.

There were 159 strikes and lockouts in 1902, of which 110 ended in favor of the men, 24 in favor of the employers, and compromises were effected in 25 cases. The estimated amount of wages lost through strikes was $142,844.35, and the strike benefits paid by labor organizations amounted to $45,711.10. There were 30,049 persons involved in strikes and lockouts.

The report of the superintendent of the Missouri free employment offices contained in this report states that in the year ended Sept. 30, 1903, there were 16,628 applicants for employment, of which number places were found for 11,036. There were 26,816 applications for help received from employers, and consequently the number of places not filled amounted to 15,780.

The Laugh Was on Parry.

A joke on David M. Parry, the Indiana manufacturer who has become widely known for his invectives against organized labor, was perpetrated in the law office of Senator Beveridge in Indianapolis, says an exchange. Mr. Parry entered there wearing a new suit of clothes. Larz Whitcomb, who is in Mr. Beveridge's office and knows Mr. Parry intimately, chaffed the manufacturer about his new clothes and suggested that they were made by organized labor. "No," said Mr. Parry, "I think not this time." But Mr. Whitcomb pushed back the lapel of his friend's coat, and on the inside, sewed in a conspicuous place, was the union label.

"A 100 Per Cent Union."

International Typographical Union Organizer John E. McLoughlin reports that local No. 424 has enrolled every journeyman printer within its jurisdiction—the Oranges, Montclair and Bloomfield, N. J.—making what he terms "a 100 per cent union."

Vice President J. M. Hannaford, of the Northern Pacific, and D. C. Shepherd, of St. Paul, prominently identified with railway interests, have left on a fishing trip to Ten Mile lake, a famous bass lake on the Minnesota & International. They will be absent several days.—St. Paul Dispatch.

George S. McCullough, manager of the poor farm, is telling a story today of how he saw a big buck deer running across the meadow at the poor farm a day or two ago. It was a beauty and stopped for a few minutes to play with the cattle in the field but finally trotted away swiftly toward the Gardner farm.

E. H. McHenry, formerly chief engineer of the Northern Pacific railroad, is seriously ill at Montreal, where he had an attack of apoplexy last week. Mr. McHenry went from the Northern Pacific to the Canadian Pacific, and resigned recently to accept a position with the New York, New Haven & Hartford, under his old chief, President Mellen.—St. Paul Dispatch.

Mrs. Anna Palmer, of Des Moines, Iowa, national evangelist of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will speak at the First Congregational church tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. She will also conduct a mixed meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon and will deliver an address in the Congregational church on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Palmer is said to be a public speaker of exceptional qualities, and it will be a privilege to hear her. Mrs. B. A. Ferris will give a reception in honor of Mrs. Palmer at her home on Saturday afternoon to which all ladies interested in the work of the union are invited.

Yeomen Initiation.

At last night's session in Columbian hall the Yeomen drill and degree teams of Brainerd Homestead No. 602, initiated a class of about 20 candidates. Members were present from N. E. Brainerd, Little Falls, Pillager and Mission. An enjoyable evening was spent in dancing and other amusements, refreshments being served at the conclusion.

TEST OF UNIONISM.

Organization Should Level Up, and Not Down.

The chief test of unionism is its effect upon the character of the individual workman, writes Secretary White of the United Garment Workers of America.

It is not sufficient to show that unionism has advanced the worker materially.

If the labor struggle tends to make the laborer self reliant and develop his faculties it is of inestimable value.

If, however, it tends ultimately to suppress the individual, lessen his capacity and make him subordinate to the mass, it not only fails of its purpose, but works serious injury.

The individual workman under modern methods of industry is unable to assert himself. He is subject to conditions upon which he is unable to make an impression.

Alone he is a nonentity. His individuality in that respect is submerged.

He regains it by acting with other workmen having allied interests. Individual striving then gives way to joint endeavor.

It is the same with a body of men as it is with an individual. In the struggle for an existence the best faculties are exercised and developed, and when the object of that striving is attained the healthful activities are slackened and decline sets in.

That is why the unions in their early stages often prove more capable of withstanding opposition than when their membership becomes large and meets with a degree of success.

Unions that have started full fledged through the effort of other unions and have gained the benefits of unionism without struggle are often without stability and really a hindrance to the general movement. They contribute numbers, but that is only a dead weight.

Such members accept the fruits that others have labored for as something that is due them, and when the artificial props that have supported them are withdrawn they fall away.

If unionism is to endure and fulfill its highest mission, the dangers that have been pointed out must be taken into consideration.

Individual development must be allowed full play and allowances made for special abilities.

Instead of trying to keep all down to a dead level, every member should be put upon his merits and not limited in his earnings. In brief, the workman should be permitted the same play as when unorganized, while being re-enforced with the combined strength of his fellow workmen.

The function of the union is to insure fair play and to enforce a standard of wages and hours based upon the average abilities. There should be a grading upward and not downward. No limitations should be put upon capacities except for reasons of health.

By observing these rules the unions would make their position impregnable.

SITUATION IN MISSOURI.

Facts and Figures From the Report of the State Labor Bureau.

The twenty-fifth annual report of the bureau of labor statistics and inspection of Missouri for 1903 gives the numbers of each class of workmen employed, their average daily wages, hours of labor and the percentage of increases in wages during the year. A large number of particulars are given with regard to labor organizations, of which 636 reported to the bureau of labor statistics. With regard to them the following statistics are of interest:

The total membership of the labor organizations was 79,443, of whom 2,835 were females. It is estimated that 80.56 per cent of the wage earners in the organized trades are members of trade unions. Compared with 1901 the average daily hours of labor decreased from 9.5 to 9.26 in 1902, and the rate of wages increased from an average of 25.39 cents per hour to 27.77 cents.

There were 159 strikes and lockouts in 1902, of which 110 ended in favor of the men, 24 in favor of the employers, and compromises were effected in 25 cases. The estimated amount of wages lost through strikes was $142,844.35, and the strike benefits paid by labor organizations amounted to $45,711.10. There were 30,049 persons involved in strikes and lockouts.

The report of the superintendent of the Missouri free employment offices contained in this report states that in the year ended Sept. 30, 1903, there were 16,628 applicants for employment, of which number places were found for 11,036. There were 26,816 applications for help received from employers, and consequently the number of places not filled amounted to 15,780.

The Laugh Was on Parry.

A joke on David M. Parry, the Indiana manufacturer who has become widely known for his invectives against organized labor, was perpetrated in the law office of Senator Beveridge in Indianapolis, says an exchange. Mr. Parry entered there wearing a new suit of clothes. Larz Whitcomb, who is in Mr. Beveridge's office and knows Mr. Parry intimately, chaffed the manufacturer about his new clothes and suggested that they were made by organized labor. "No," said Mr. Parry, "I think not this time." But Mr. Whitcomb pushed back the lapel of his friend's coat, and on the inside, sewed in a conspicuous place, was the union label.

"A 100 Per Cent Union."

International Typographical Union Organizer John E. McLoughlin reports that local No. 424 has enrolled every journeyman printer within its jurisdiction—the Oranges, Montclair and Bloomfield, N. J.—making what he terms "a 100 per cent union."

GRAND DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS

Elk's Band will Furnish Music all Day—A Big Program of Sports Mapped Out

There will be a grand Fourth of July celebration for Brainerd people at Gilbert Lake this year under the auspices of the Modern Woodmen and the Royal Neighbors. The lake is on the outskirts of the city and is easy of access and there should be a large crowd go out from the city to be present.

A program of sports has been prepared for the day which will include the usual events that have made the day memorable. There will be music by the Elk's band all day and there be a grand display of fire works, dancing etc., etc., and everything else that makes life interesting.

The committee in charge has made arrangements for every accommodation for those who will go out to the lake on this day and nothing will be left undone to make the event a happy one for all. There is excellent boating and there are many beauty spots about the lake and the wonder is that there is not always a crowd out there when it is so close to the city. A more detailed account of the program will be given later.

BRUTAL MURDER AT LITTLE FALLS

Frank Winnar is Murdered and Bride of one Month is Under Arrest

HIT ON THE HEAD WHILE ASLEEP

Wife Claims that he was Attacked by Tramps and was Murdered by Them

The body of Frank Winnar, a resident of section 7, town of Pike Creek, is at Harting's morgue in this city, and the widow, Katie Winnar, is in the custody of the sheriff and confined in the county jail. Preceding these events there occurred at the home of Winnar Tuesday or Wednesday morning one of the most brutal murders in the history of Morrison county, Winnar being the victim, and his widow being arrested on suspicion of being the perpetrator of the crime and a murderess.

At an early hour Wednesday morning Frank Hommerik and John Setera, residents of Pike Creek, came to the city and notified Coroner N. W. Chance and Sheriff Tanner that a crime had been committed at the home of Frank Winnar in the Twin Lake neighborhood. The officers immediately left for the scene of the crime and were soon followed by a Transcript representative. Arriving at the home of Frank Winnar, on the sw¹/₄ nw¹/₄, section 7, Pike Creek township, and entering the house the body of the murdered man was found on the floor of the room in the east bedroom, his head being near the door. The room was bespattered with blood. The floor where the man lay was covered with blood and the bed in which he had been sleeping was also bloody near the head and blood was scattered on the studding of the wall near where the head of the bed was located, showing that the first blow had been struck while the victim was in bed.

The victim had evidently been hit on the head with a club or some blunt instrument and there were cuts on the head and face. The bloody condition of the room and the broken furniture showed that there had been a struggle, and that the man had tried to gain the door of the room. Bloody spots were found around on the walls and back of the door, about five feet from the floor, where the poor fellow's head had been knocked against the wall as the murderer rained blows on him with a club. Finally he had fallen with his head toward the door, and there he expired a few hours later, but was unable to tell to friends, called at a late hour, how he received the wounds or who was the person inflicting the wounds.

Mrs. Winnar, a bride of about a month and now a widow, is suspected of committing the crime and was immediately placed under arrest. Her tangled stories and the circumstances point very strongly to her as the murderess. She did not know at first what her husband had been killed, but some of the sheriff's party soon found in the brush a broken bloody broom handle, and in the woodshed several sticks of wood upon which there was blood and hair. The pieces of wood found were of the same kind as that in the woodbox in the kitchen. The woman said, however, that it was not her wood.—Transcript.

Organs Lost by Disease.

It is a suggestive fact not always sufficiently considered that "as soon as any organ or faculty fails into disuse it degenerates and is finally lost altogether." Through all the ages that man has had the power of speech this power has not been fixed in us in any degree whatever by heredity. It is regarded as definitely proved that if a child of civilized parents were brought up in a desert place and allowed no communication whatever with man it would never make any attempt at speech.

Up to the last century it was not uncommon to find persons living in a wild state in the woods and forests of England, France, Germany and Russia who were utterly incapable of speech, though they could make sounds in imitation of the cries of wild animals. Certain parasitic insects have so completely degenerated that they possess neither eyes, legs, heads, mouths, stomachs nor intestines.—Lecture Hour.

A Queer Death Superstition.

A curious relic of the superstitious ideas of the middle ages still exists in many parts of England—the notion that when the death of a person is imminent the fastenings of the door of the death chamber or of the other rooms of the house hinder the departure of the soul from the body, thus making final dissolution doubly painful.

A gentleman writing about half a century ago for a collection of antiquarian papers states that when he was curator at Exeter he had a call to the deathbed of one of his parishioners. Upon arriving there the wife of the patient told the minister that she had expected her husband to die during the previous night and on that account had left the doors all open or unlocked. Upon asking for reasons for this odd proceeding he was told of the neighborhood superstition.

The Heart of Robert Bruce.

When Robert Bruce, king of Scotland, lay upon his deathbed in the year 1329 he remembered that he had registered a vow to help wrest the Holy Land from the heathen Turks. It was clear that the time for fulfilling this vow had passed, but a new thought presented. Why not have his heart removed and sent to Jerusalem for burial? To make the story short, this was decided upon, and Sir James Douglas was commissioned to carry it in a silver urn "to a place as near as possible to where the Saviour was crucified" and there bury it. Arriving in Spain, Sir James, with the precious relic strung to his neck by a chain, was killed in a battle with the Moors. Sir Simeon Locard returned with the heart to Scotland and deposited it under the altar of Melrose abbey, where it now is.

DUMONT KEPT THE LID OFF.

Commander of Jefferson Guards Reports on Damaged Balloon.

St. Louis, June 30.—If Santos Dumont had kept the lid on his airship no one could have slashed it full of holes, according to Colonel K. P. Kingsbury, commandant of the Jefferson guards at the world's fair, in a report on the affair made Wednesday. Colonel Kingsbury finds that while the lid was off some one with a strong knife reached into the box containing the gas bag of Dumont's airship and cut the bag full of holes. The report contains this statement: "One of Mr. Dumont's assistants is said to carry a large, strong knife. Owing to the strength of the numerous folds and thickness of the balloon envelop, some such knife as this would have been necessary to cut the balloon."

The report says that Dumont refused to keep the lid on because he wanted air to get to the balloon, but says no excuse was offered for not putting a wire netting over the bag.

Charles F. Morrison, who was arrested for cutting the bag, has been released.

Organs Lost by Disuse.

It is a suggestive fact not always sufficiently considered that "as soon as any organ or faculty fails into disuse it degenerates and is finally lost altogether." Through all the ages that man has had the power of speech this power has not been fixed in us in any degree whatever by heredity. It is regarded as definitely proved that if a child of civilized parents were brought up in a desert place and allowed no communication whatever with man it would never make any attempt at speech.

Up to the last century it was not uncommon to find persons living in a wild state in the woods and forests of England, France, Germany and Russia who were utterly incapable of speech, though they could make sounds in imitation of the cries of wild animals. Certain parasitic insects have so completely degenerated that they possess neither eyes, legs, heads, mouths, stomachs nor intestines.—Lecture Hour.

A Queer Death Superstition.

A curious relic of the superstitious ideas of the middle ages still exists in many parts of England—the notion that when the death of a person is imminent the fastenings of the door of the death chamber or of the other rooms of the house hinder the departure of the soul from the body, thus making final dissolution doubly painful.

A gentleman writing about half a century ago for a collection of antiquarian papers states that when he was curator at Exeter he had a call to the deathbed of one of his parishioners. Upon arriving there the wife of the patient told the minister that she had expected her husband to die during the previous night and on that account had left the doors all open or unlocked. Upon asking for reasons for this odd proceeding he was told of the neighborhood superstition.

The Heart of Robert Bruce.

When Robert Bruce, king of Scotland, lay upon his deathbed in the year 1329 he remembered that he had registered a vow to help wrest the Holy Land from the heathen Turks. It was clear that the time for fulfilling this vow had passed, but a new thought presented. Why not have his heart removed and sent to Jerusalem for burial? To make the story short, this was decided upon, and Sir James Douglas was commissioned to carry it in a silver urn "to a place as near as possible to where the Saviour was crucified" and there bury it. Arriving in Spain, Sir James, with the precious relic strung to his neck by a chain, was killed in a battle with the Moors. Sir Simeon Locard returned with the heart to Scotland and deposited it under the altar of Melrose abbey, where it now is.

DUMONT KEPT THE LID OFF.

Commander of Jefferson Guards Reports on Damaged Balloon.

St. Louis, June 30.—If Santos Dumont had kept the lid on his airship no one could have slashed it full of holes, according to Colonel K. P. Kingsbury, commandant of the Jefferson guards at the world's fair, in a report on the affair made Wednesday. Colonel Kingsbury finds that while the lid was off some one with a strong knife reached into the box containing the gas bag of Dumont's airship and cut the bag full of holes. "The report contains this statement: 'One of Mr. Dumont's assistants is said to carry a large, strong knife. Owing to the strength of the numerous folds and thickness of the balloon envelop, some such knife as this would have been necessary to cut the balloon.'"

The report says that Dumont refused to keep the lid on because he wanted air to get to the balloon, but says no excuse was offered for not putting a wire netting over the bag.

Charles F. Morrison, who was arrested for cutting the bag, has been released.

MAY NOMINATE MILES

BOOM OF THE GENERAL GIVEN A BIG FORWARD MOVEMENT BY PROHIBITIONISTS.

THINKS HE WOULD ACCEPT

JOHN G. WOOLLEY EXPLAINS THE

POSITION TAKEN BY PROS-

PECTIVE NOMINEE.

Indianapolis, June 30.—The boom for General Miles for the Prohibition nominee for president was given a decided forward movement Wednesday by a public meeting of delegates and visitors at the state house, following the adjournment of the afternoon session of the convention. Fifteen hundred persons were present, of whom more than 400 were delegate badges. Alonzo E. Wilson, Illinois state chairman presided. J. G. Woolley of Chicago, editor of the Voice, gave evidence as to General Miles' position. He said he had been in close communication with General Miles during the last six weeks by letters, visits and conversations.

"I do not know that he will accept the nomination," said Mr. Woolley, "but I believe he will. I told him I was coming to Indianapolis to assist in his nomination unless he forbade me. He did forbid me, and if he was willing for me to come under these circumstances and then decline the nomination he is not the sensitive gentleman he should be."

Favors More Than One Issue.

Conversations with General Miles were related by Mr. Woolley in which General Miles said the Prohibitionists did wrong to confine themselves to one issue when there were such questions also as the civil service, the Constitution following the flag, the United States having subjects, popular election of senators and the return of sovereignty to the hands of the people.

General Miles was quoted as saying there would soon be a breaking up of old parties and in the realignment the liquor question would be one of the vital issues.

Mr. Woolley said he interpreted the Miles letter to signify that General Miles would prefer to wait for some party big enough to include in its platform other vital issues besides prohibition.

The national prohibition convention completed its organization Wednesday and adjourned until today. The new national committee was selected at state meetings and it organized by electing Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago chairman. It includes the following: Iowa, A. S. Coats, Malcolm Smith; Michigan, Samuel Dickie, F. W. Corbett; Minnesota, B. B. Haugen, George W. Higgins; North Dakota, T. E. Ostlund, M. H. Kiff; South Dakota, C. V. Templeton, C. E. Simpkins; Wisconsin, J. E. Clayton, E. T. Gilbertson.

A majority of the new committee is opposed to the nomination of General Miles for president and favors a single issue.

DEMOCRATS OF MISSOURI.

Faction Opposed to Joseph W. Folk Controls Convention.

Joplin, Mo., June 30.—The Democratic state convention to elect thirty-six delegates to the national convention at St. Louis selected the following delegates at large:

United States Senator Stone, Governor A. M. Dockery, Congressman Champ Clark and Congressman D. A. De Armond.

Thirty-two district delegates were also chosen. The convention was controlled by the so-called "machine" element, which is opposed to the faction which is supporting Joseph W. Folk of St. Louis, candidate for governor.

The convention endorsed Senator Francis M. Cockrell for president, and the delegates were instructed to vote as a unit on all questions in the national convention.

REPUBLICANS OF MAINE

Nominate a State Ticket Headed by W. T. Cobb for Governor.

Bangor, Me., June 30.—William T. Cobb of Rockland last night was nominated for governor by the Republican state convention on the first ballot. Mr. Cobb having thirty-eight votes to spare over four other aspirants for the nomination.

Hearty receptions were accorded to Senator Hale, who presided, Congressman Burleigh, Littlefield and Powers, who were among the delegates.

The platform adopted declares for protection, the reciprocity of Blaine, Arthur, Harrison, McKinley and Dingley; indorses the administration of President Roosevelt and pledges a support of the national Republican ticket.

SEARCH IS ABANDONED.

Wisconsin Militiamen Return to Their Homes.

Winona, Minn., June 30.—The members of Company C of the Third regiment of Wisconsin militia, whose home is at Hudson, and who have been on duty across the river from here since last Saturday night, have received orders to depart for their homes, the search in this locality for Lon Smith being abandoned so far as this militia company is concerned.

The militiamen are convinced that the murderer of Sheriff Harris has escaped over the river to Minnesota and has by this time put a long distance between himself and his pursuers.

Washington, June 30.—The state department has taken note of the press report of the dispatch of warships by France and Germany to secure reparation for the attack upon the persons of the French and German ministers recently by Haytian soldiers at Port au Prince.

If the demands made on Hayti by France and Germany are not excessive or oppressive in the judgment of the state department there will be no interference by this government, but developments will be watched with keen interest to see that the line is properly drawn and undue punishment is not inflicted. It is not doubted that the Haytian government will supplement its inadequate letter of apology by punishing the guilty guards when it realizes it cannot look for intervention by this country.

FOUR FIREMEN WILL DIE.

Forty-three Overcome by Smoke and Gas in New York.

New York, June 30.—Forty-three firemen, four of whom will die, were overcome by smoke and gas at a fire Wednesday in the subcellar of a five-story brick building at 353 Broadway, extending through to Mercer street. Half a hundred employees were driven from the building, and damage done by fire and water is $120,000. The smoke was so dense and so pungent that the firemen could not work in it only a few minutes at a time, and many of those who braved it lay on the floor senseless, unnoticed for several minutes at a time, and one man lay unnoticed an hour before being dragged out into the open. The bursting of a gas main and the consequent filling of the burning structure with thousands of cubic feet of gas added to the danger.

APPLE SCAB.

The Worst Disease of the Apple. Thrives in Damp Early Summer. By R. O. LONGYEAR, Michigan Experiment Station.

The disease of the apple commonly known as "scab" or in some cases as "black spot" is probably familiar to every grower of this fruit. It first appears in spring on the young foliage, producing velvety, olive colored patches. This form is sometimes known as "mildew" or "leaf blight." In severe cases the leaves become shriveled and discolored, eventually falling off. The fungus also attacks the stems of the young apples at blossoming time, especially if the weather at this time is unusually cool and moist. This causes the young fruit to shrivel and drop off, often greatly reducing the crop of mature fruit.

The most characteristic effects of this fungous parasite, however, are found on the fruit itself. Here the spots at first appear much like those on the leaves, but as the fruit develops the fungus works under the cuticle, or outer layer of the skin, causing it to scale off. These spots on mature apples have a dark brown or blackish color, with a narrow border of a light gray color. The spots are usually most numerous around the blossom end of the fruit. On badly affected fruit the spots run together, sometimes covering one-third of the surface. Deep cracks often occur in such cases, which allow the apple to rot.

Apple scab is without doubt the worst disease affecting this fruit. This is due not alone to its destruction of the foliage and young apples or to the unsightly spots which it causes on the mature fruit. In addition to all this, it opens a way for the entrance of numerous rot producing fungi into the tissues of the mature apple. Thus during the seasons of 1902 and 1903, which were characterized in this state by an unusual rainfall, great quantities of apples were lost soon after packing and in storage and even during shipment through the agency of these soft rot following apple scab. In some cases apples affected with scab began

The fungus of apple scab thrives during moist, cool weather, especially during the early part of summer. Fruit grown on closely crowded trees where air and light are shut out appears to be more severely affected than where the opposite conditions prevail. Therefore a location securing good ventilation, proper spacing of trees and systematic pruning are to be considered as preventive measures in the case of this disease. It has been found that the fungus passes the winter on the fallen leaves, appearing as minute black bodies buried in the leaf tissues. From these are given off, in the following spring, the first crop of spores which attack the lower leaves, the disease later spreading to all parts of the tree. Thus another preventive measure is suggested and recommended—viz, the destroying of these dead leaves, which serve as agents of infection. This may be done either by raking and burning them or by plowing them under in the spring before the spores are shed.

The planting of varieties which are naturally less subject to the scab is also to be considered as a preventive measure. Spraying for the prevention and treatment of this disease has proved of unquestioned value and a paying investment to the apple grower. The first application made before the buds open may be copper sulphate solution, which is cheaper and easier to prepare and use than bordeaux mixture. By many growers this application is considered the most important one for fungous diseases and should not be neglected. After the leaves appear it will be necessary to use bordeaux mixture, the first application of this spray to be used just before blossoming. This is the most important treatment of the season. The second after the blossoms fall and two or three other applications at intervals of ten days to two weeks will prove beneficial, especially if the season is a wet one. The final spray may consist of a weak solution of copper sulphate to avoid staining the fruit.

MAY NOMINATE MILES

BOOM OF THE GENERAL GIVEN A BIG FORWARD MOVEMENT BY PROHIBITIONISTS.

THINKS HE WOULD ACCEPT

JOHN G. WOOLLEY EXPLAINS THE POSITION TAKEN BY PROSPECTIVE NOMINEE.

Indianapolis, June 30.—The boom for General Miles for the Prohibition nominee for president was given a decided forward movement Wednesday by a public meeting of delegates and visitors at the state house, following the adjournment of the afternoon session of the convention. Fifteen hundred persons were present, of whom more than 400 were delegate badges. Alonzo E. Wilson, Illinois state chairman presided. J. G. Woolley of Chicago, editor of the Voice, gave evidence as to General Miles' position. He said he had been in close communication with General Miles during the last six weeks by letters, visits and conversations.

“I do not know that he will accept the nomination,” said Mr. Woolley, “but I believe he will. I told him I was coming to Indianapolis to assist in his nomination unless he forbade me. He did forbid me, and if he was willing for me to come under these circumstances and then decline the nomination he is not the sensitive gentleman he should be.”

Favors More Than One Issue.

Conversations with General Miles were related by Mr. Woolley in which General Miles said the Prohibitionists did wrong to confine themselves to one issue when there were such questions also as the civil service, the Constitution following the flag, the United States having subjects, popular election of senators and the return of sovereignty to the hands of the people.

General Miles was quoted as saying there would soon be a breaking up of old parties and in the realignment the liquor question would be one of the vital issues.

Mr. Woolley said he interpreted the Miles letter to signify that General Miles would prefer to wait for some party big enough to include in its platform other vital issues besides prohibition.

The national prohibition convention completed its organization Wednesday and adjourned until today. The new national committee was selected at state meetings and it organized by electing Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago chairman. It includes the following: Iowa, A. S. Coats, Malcolm Smith; Michigan, Samuel Dickie, F. W. Corbett; Minnesota, B. B. Haugen, George W. Higgins; North Dakota, T. E. Ostlund, M. H. Kiff; South Dakota, C. V. Templeton, C. E. Simpkins; Wisconsin, J. E. Clayton, E. T. Gilbertson.

A majority of the new committee is opposed to the nomination of General Miles for president and favors a single issue.

DEMOCRATS OF MISSOURI.

Faction Opposed to Joseph W. Folk Controls Convention.

Jefferson, Mo., June 30.—The Democratic state convention to elect thirty-six delegates to the national convention at St. Louis selected the following delegates at large:

United States Senator Stone, Governor A. M. Dockery, Congressman Champ Clark and Congressman D. A. De Armond.

Thirty-two district delegates were also chosen. The convention was controlled by the so-called “machine” element, which is opposed to the faction which is supporting Joseph W. Folk of St. Louis, candidate for governor.

The convention endorsed Senator Francis M. Cockrell for president, and the delegates were instructed to vote as a unit on all questions in the national convention.

REPUBLICANS OF MAINE

Nominate a State Ticket Headed by W. T. Cobb for Governor.

Bangor, Me., June 30.—William T. Cobb of Rockland last night was nominated for governor by the Republican state convention on the first ballot, Mr. Cobb having thirty-eight votes to spare over four other aspirants for the nomination.

Hearty receptions were accorded to Senator Hale, who presided, Congressman Burleigh, Littlefield and Powers, who were among the delegates.

The platform adopted declares for protection, the reciprocity of Blaine, Arthur, Harrison, McKinley and Dingley; indorses the administration of President Roosevelt and pledges a support of the national Republican ticket.

SEARCH IS ABANDONED.

Wisconsin Militiamen Return to Their Homes.

Winona, Minn., June 30.—The members of Company C of the Third regiment of Wisconsin militia, whose home is at Hudson, and who have been on duty across the river from here since last Saturday night, have received orders to depart for their homes, the search in this locality for Lon Smith being abandoned so far as this militia company is concerned.

The militiamen are convinced that the murderer of Sheriff Harris has escaped over the river to Minnesota and has by this time put a long distance between himself and his pursuers.

French Warship Expected at Port au Prince on July 1.

Port au Prince, June 30.—The French cruiser Jurien de la Graviere will arrive at this port July 1.

Washington, June 30.—The state department has taken note of the press report of the dispatch of warships by France and Germany to secure reparation for the attack upon the persons of the French and German ministers recently by Haytian soldiers at Port au Prince.

If the demands made on Hayti by France and Germany are not excessive or oppressive in the judgment of the state department there will be no interference by this government, but developments will be watched with keen interest to see that the line is properly drawn and undue punishment is not inflicted. It is not doubted that the Haytian government will supplement its inadequate letter of apology by punishing the guilty guards when it realizes it cannot look for intervention by this country.

FOUR FIREMEN WILL DIE.

Forty-three Overcome by Smoke and Gas in New York.

New York, June 30.—Forty-three firemen, four of whom will die, were overcome by smoke and gas at a fire Wednesday in the subcellar of a five-story brick building at 353 Broadway, extending through to Mercer street. Half a hundred employees were driven from the building, and damage done by fire and water is $120,000. The smoke was so dense and so pungent that the firemen could not work in it only a few minutes at a time, and many of those who braved it lay on the floor senseless, unnoticed for several minutes at a time, and one man lay unnoticed an hour before being dragged out into the open. The bursting of a gas main and the consequent filling of the burning structure with thousands of cubic feet of gas added to the danger.

APPLE SCAB.

The Worst Disease of the Apple. Thrives in Damp Early Summer. By B. O. LONGYEAR, Michigan Experiment Station.

The disease of the apple commonly known as “scab” or in some cases as “black spot” is probably familiar to every grower of this fruit. It first appears in spring on the young foliage, producing velvety, olive colored patches. This form is sometimes known as “mildew” or “leaf blight.” In severe cases the leaves become shriveled and discolored, eventually falling off. The fungus also attacks the stems of the young apples at blossoming time, especially if the weather at this time is unusually cool and moist. This causes the young fruit to shrivel and drop off, often greatly reducing the crop of mature fruit.

The most characteristic effects of this fungous parasite, however, are found on the fruit itself. Here the spots at first appear much like those on the leaves, but as the fruit develops the fungus works under the cuticle, or outer layer of the skin, causing it to scale off. These spots on mature apples have a dark brown or blackish color, with a narrow border of a light gray color. The spots are usually most numerous around the blossom end of the fruit. On badly affected fruit the spots run together, sometimes covering one-third of the surface. Deep cracks often occur in such cases, which allow the apple to dry out.

Apple scab is without doubt the worst disease affecting this fruit. This is due not alone to its destruction of the foliage and young apples or to the unsightly spots which it causes on the mature fruit. In addition to all this, it opens a way for the entrance of numerous rot producing fungi into the tissues of the mature apple. Thus during the seasons of 1902 and 1903, which were characterized in this state by an unusual rainfall, great quantities of apples were lost soon after packing and in storage and even during shipment through the agency of these soft rots following apple scab. In some cases apples affected with scab began

The fungus of apple scab thrives during moist, cool weather, especially during the early part of summer. Fruit grown on closely crowded trees where air and light are shut out appears to be more severely affected than where the opposite conditions prevail. Therefore a location securing good ventilation, proper spacing of trees and systematic pruning are to be considered as preventive measures in the case of this disease. It has been found that the fungus passes the winter on the fallen leaves, appearing as minute black bodies buried in the leaf tissues. From these are given off, in the following spring, the first crop of spores which attack the lower leaves, the disease later spreading to all parts of the tree. Thus another preventive measure is suggested and recommended—viz, the destroying of these dead leaves, which serve as agents of infection. This may be done either by raking and burning them or by plowing them under in the spring before the spores are shed.

The planting of varieties which are naturally less subject to the scab is also to be considered as a preventive measure. Spraying for the prevention and treatment of this disease has proved of unquestioned value and a paying investment to the apple grower. The first application made before the buds open may be copper sulphate solution, which is cheaper and easier to prepare and use than bordeaux mixture. By many growers this application is considered the most important one for fungous diseases and should not be neglected. After the leaves appear it will be necessary to use bordeaux mixture, the first application of this spray to be used just before blossoming. This is the most important treatment of the season. The second after the blossoms fall and two or three other applications at intervals of ten days to two weeks will prove beneficial, especially if the season is a wet one. The final spray may consist of a weak solution of copper sulphate to avoid staining the fruit.
